THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CO. Entered at the Postofflor as Washington, D. C.,

THURSDAY, JANUARY 8, 1885.

THE WEEKLY REPUBLICAN WILL be issued to-day. It contains a digest of the news in the daily up to date, a record of the proceedings in congress, besides a large amount of other interesting reading matter. It can be obtained in wrappers, ready for mailing, in the business office.

THE department of state received advices yesterday to the effect that the coffee crop of Brazil for the new year will amount to 6,000,000 bags.

VINTERDAY the senate in secret session voted in favor of ratifying the Nicaragua canal treaty. It was an important action, rightly done, and will be approved by the country.

Ir Oliver H. Payne, of Ohio; Whitney, of New York, and Frank Jones, of New Hampshire, go into Cleveland's cabinet, as rumor now indicates, it will be a generous recognition of the financial backers the democratic candidates. All are rich men, and all contributed freely in and of Cleveland's election. All three are believers in the old Jacksonian doctrine that to the victors belong the spoils.

A LEADING Berlin newspaper, in an officially inspired article, announces the day is near at hand when the Panama and Nicaragua canal questions will have to be regulated by an international conference like that now regulating the Congo, All of which is cheerful reading to a courtry that stands by the Monroe doctrine, but has no navy, and has a congress mortally opposed to the construc-

In spite of the efforts of Beecher's partisans to boom the sale of pews in Plymouth Church the receipts fell off $7,583 from last year. There has been an almost steady decline for the last ten years. If receipts are any measure of the reverend gentleman's strength with his congregagentleman's strength with his congrega-tion, there is quite a decline in Beecher stock shown since 1875. In that year the total receipts were $58,997; this year they aggregate $27,256. About one more pres-idential election and there would be no receipts, and Beecher would be obliged to hire people to listen to his preaching.

Systron Buck's bill for the creation of another tariff commission does not posess any very brilliant chance of passage this session, but even if it were at all probable it could obtain considerashould not pass. It is but a couple of years since a thorough revision of the tariff was made, and it should not be tinkered with any further. The business of the country is suffering now from uncertainty as to what it has to expect under the change of administration, and the senate would remove one element of disturbance if it would promptly reject Mr. Beck's mischievous bill upon the first opportunity offered. Of course Mr. Beck and the other free traders of congress will keep up their efforts to reduce the tariff to the basis of their un-American theories, and cannot be prevented from doing so, but the senate can take such action that the business interests of the country will become assured of protection against undue foreign competition as long as it remains a republican body.

WE do not believe that the treaty with Spain should be considered with reference to the relative loss of duties inwolved, or without giving weight to the relation the Spanish treaty bears to the other commercial reciprocity treaties negotiated, in process of negotiation, or contemplated, with the nations of Central and South America as outlined in President Arthur's message Our enormous and growing industries demand an outlet, and a grand market that we should naturally control lies in the countries named. The conces sions we must make to gain that control should be lumped together, and the return advantages to be gained from all collectively should be weighed against the concessions. If the president's truly American policy is to be carried out it is obvious the terms of the treaties will vary with each power contracted with, and that two or three countries will account for nearly all the loss of duty involved to us. while with the others the concessions in that regard will be mainly in our favor. It would be very poor policy to leave the Spanish Antilles and Brazil out of any general scheme of commercial reciprocity with the friendly peoples south of us be cause we will have to concede a greater remission of customs in their cases than they will be called upon to remit to us Especially since the duties in question are mainly upon sugar, which, in the course of events, will be about the next article we will put upon our free list anyhow.

Gen. Grant's Declination. Gen. Grant has declined to avail himself of the benefits of the fund his faithful friends have for some time past been collecting for the purpose of relieving him from the dire distress into which he was thrown by Ferdinand Ward's matchless villainy. The American people will promptly respond to the manly honesty that refuses to accept a competence that requires to be hedged about with legal stratogems to keep it from the clutches of his creditors. Broken in health and apirit by his misfortunes, he has, not-withstanding, proved his title clear to the unrivalled position he long has filled in the hearts of his countrymen as their one hero, alike in peace and war. As to what should now be done we can not do better than quote the words of the New York Mail and Express, in which his note of declination first appeared :

What but the one straight-forward, legiti-mate, adequate method becoming the govern-ment of the United States itself, the proudest ument of Grant's achievements. The title and rank created for him as the recogni-tion of his services should be restored to him. It is a small matter for this nation, made a tis a small matter for this nation, made a atlon more by Grant than by any other man, of West Virginia; Whitehead, of Pittsburg; selve to him by special enactment, as it did see of its fresh gratitude the title and poy of general of the army of the | Lewin and Revs. C. Virgie Niles.

The bridesmalds advanced in file up the north aisle and the ushers on the other side, meeting at the chancel and taking place on the platform in a semi-circle to right and left of the bride and greens. The bride, leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. A. Ross Ray, followed the bridesmaids, and was met at the foot of the chancel by the groom, who stepped smilingly forward and taking her hand conducted her to the altar rail, where

CURRENT COMMENT.

An English Indorsement. An Engits Indorsement.

If Mr. Shaw Lefevre desires to identify his administration at St. Martin's le Grand with progress in the postal service, he can searcely make a better commencement than by taking hold of a suggestion which has just emanated from Mr. Hatton, the postmaster general of the United States. Mr. Hatton proposes a 10-cent special delivery where promptness is particularly desired, which really means the establishment of a special messenger serticularly desired, which really means the establishment of a special messenger service worked by the post office. The letters intended for special delivery could either be stamped in a peculiar way or posted in special boxes; and probably the best posting stations would be the telegraph offices, where messenger boys are always in force. The scheme may perhaps be difficult to work out in detail; but no one will question that Mr. Shaw Lefevre would materially increase the value of the post office if he could put the suggestion into practice. The 8-penny telegram will not obviste the necessity for the service, for the telegraph rate will only permit of few words.—Pall Mail Gazette, Dec. 18, 1884.

A Cynic's Opinion The Chicago News wants to make charity fashionable. It has been fashionable for a number of years. The plan is to get up a big wedding and send out several hundred invitations on purpose to get presents.—Indianapolis Times.

There is a loud call from the sweet-scented, sunny solid south for the passage of the Biair educational bill. It is the voice of ignorance crying aloud in the wilder-ness. The bill should pass, nevertheless.—

Fan, if no Office. It will be an interesting sight, if nothing more, to see a northern democrat, elected by the south, run the government with republican agents and achieve reform.—Mucon Telegraph, dem.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. Florence change their bill to-Nr. and Mrs. Forence change there out on night and will fevire "The Mighty Dollar," in which play Mr. Florence is inimitable as the Hon. Bardwell Slote, and is ably seconded by his wife, whose impersonation of Mrs. Gillfory is one of the most original and complete on the stage. The piece is one which, like wine, improves with age. CONING ATTRACTIONS.

COMISG ATTRACTIONS.

The Caricton Opera troupe, which 'recently filled an engagement at Ford's Opera House, will return there next week. The leading members of the company are both good vocalists and act well, and the operas of their repertoire are presented with a degree of perfection not often met with. Their chorus is good, the suppointments are appropriate, and the per-fernances of the company are all thoroughly mjoyable. The repertoire, as far as aunounced, is as follows: Monday, "The Drum Major's Daughter," Tuesday, "Merry War," Wednes-lay, "Mascot," Thursday, "Fra Diavolo." The box sheet opens to-day. Seven years ago a partnership was formed between Mr. Stuart Bouson and Mr. William H. Crane, the weil-known comedians. They produced a play from the pen of Mr. Diou Boucleault, called "Forbidden Fruit." They will be seen in this comedy, commencing next Monday evening at Albaugh's Grand Opera House, as Cato Dove and Sergeant Baster re-spectively. The engagement of these two ardists will continue during next week. "For badden Fruit" will be repeated on Tuesday and at the Saturday matinee. On Wednesday an improved version of "Our Boarding House" will be given. On Thursday and Friday the new play of "The Cherubs" will be presented, and on Saturday night "Sharps and Flats" will be the attraction. The sale of seats will commence this morning.

Mile. Ehea, whose thoroughly artistic impersonations have made her a warm favorite in this city, will commence an engagement at the National Theater next Monday. She will produce two plays new to Washington-"Ar cadia" and "The American Countess." In the formier she is now making a decided suc-coas in Boston, while the latter piece will have its initial performance in Washington. Mile. Rhea's high dramatic abilities, her special at tention to costume, and her attractive per-sonal qualities are too well known to need re-hearsal now, and the success of her former engagements here will undoubtedly be supented next week. The advance sale com nces this morning at the box office of the

THE ART OF MEMORY.

PROF. A. S. BOYD, AT 9224 F STREET NORTHWEST, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Is teaching with great success a "system" which will enable you to acquire facts or anything de-strable to be committed to memory in one-fifth of the time usually required. You can, after two hours' instruction, commit to memory, by one reading, from fifty to one hundred words, figures, or technical terms, and readily recall them with ease and accuracy.

Many of Prof Boyd's publs, with poor or ordinary memories, have been enabled, after two or three readings, to recite long poems and give immediately and correctly, any line called for according to its number, and to give every thought In order presented in a lecture of an hour afte listening to its delivery.
